DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is a response to Applicant's Preliminary Amendment filed January 8, 2007.

Claims 28, 30, 31, 33, and 34-36 have been amended. Claim 38 has been canceled. New claims 39 and 40 are acknowledged.

Claims 28-37, 39, and 40 are pending in the instant application.

Claims 39 and 40 are subject to restriction requirement as detailed below:

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 39, drawn to method of inhibiting the expression of PC Cell Derived Growth Factor protein in a cell comprising administering a PC Cell Derived Growth Factor antisense oligonucleotide comprising SEQ ID NO:14 to the cell wherein said oligonucleotide inhibits the expression of PC Cell Derived Growth Factor protein, classifiable in class 514, subclass 44, for example.
- II. Claim 40, drawn to method of inhibiting the expression of PC Cell Derived Growth Factor protein in a cell comprising administering a PC Cell Derived Growth Factor antisense oligonucleotide comprising SEQ ID NO:12 to the cell wherein said oligonucleotide inhibits the expression of PC Cell Derived Growth Factor protein, classifiable in class 514, subclass 44, for example.

Art Unit: 1635

The inventions are distinct, each from the other, because of the following reasons:

Groups I and II are directed to related inventions. However, the related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions of Groups I and II are patentably distinct from each other since they are directed to methods of using chemically distinct structural compounds/molecules, namely an antisense oligonucleotide comprising SEQ ID NO:14 or SEQ ID NO:12. The compounds used in the methods are known in the art to possess a materially design. For example, SEQ ID NO:14 of Group I has an entirely different, distinct, and unique nucleic acid structure than SEQ ID NO:12 of Group II. Furthermore, the inventions of Groups I and II utilize materially different nucleic acids, with unique structures that do not overlap in scope, nor are the nucleic acids obvious variants of each other. Even further, the inventions of Groups I and II are considered to be mutually exclusive, each from the other, since the method components of one Group is not disclosed as requiring the method components of another Group. Since it is a burden to search and examine these multiple inventions in a single application, due to the fact that the searches are divergent and non-coextensive, restriction is proper therefore.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(l).
